

Accounting

Course Description

Course Code: Acc 1130/ Acc130-Accounting I

This course presents a comprehensive and practical approach to modern day principles of accounting. It focuses largely on the accounting for external reporting and the generation of financial information necessary for managerial decision making. This course gives students the opportunity to master accounting concepts and provides a firm foundation for further studies. This course introduces students to the conceptual structure of financial accounting in an effort to develop their ability to read, understand and interpret the general purpose of financial statements [Income Statement, Position Statement, Statement of Retained Earnings, Cash Flow Statements] reported to investors and creditors of corporate business entities.

Course Code: SPMS1185 / SPMS85-Introduction to Speech

This course provides the students with an opportunity to study the components of a good presentation. It gradually guides candidates to prepare and introduce effective presentations. It also aims at increasing self-confidence through controlling stage fright, enhancing participation skills, and involving students in debates and discussion.

Course Code: Eng 1120 / Eng20-Exposition and Argumentation

This course will provide participants the opportunity to continue to develop the necessary writing skills with special emphasis on expository, descriptive, persuasive (argumentative) and narrative writing. This course will introduce advanced writing concepts and continued emphasis will be place on writing according to the rules of good essay writing.

Course Code: Econ 1100 / Eco 121-Principles of Microeconomics

This course covers the major concepts and subject matter of microeconomics. This course guides the students to study about the resource allocation in the household and firms, the Cost functions, and the Market mechanism.

Course Code: Math1103 /Math 3-Pre- Calculus

Basic principles of algebra including the number line and an introduction to equations and inequalities, polynomials, rational expressions, exponents and radicals, the quadratic formula, and functions.

Course Code: Psych 1101 / Psych 50-Introduction to Psychology

Designed to assist the individual in developing a growing understanding of basic psychological concepts, an increased awareness of oneself, a continuous interest in human behavior, and an increased effectiveness in relating to other people.

Course Code: ENG 1160 / ENG 60-Writing & Research

Academic conventions of writing a research paper. Terminology and concepts of research: research proposal, thesis statement, bibliography, references, literature review, abstract, appendix, footnotes, acknowledgement, and table of content. The process of writing a research paper: formulation of thesis statement; writing a research proposal; follow ordering of table of contents in accordance with academic standards.

Course Code: Stat 1115 / Stat115-Statistics for Business I

This course introduces students to concepts of Statistics. A course on Statistical methodology for social and behavioral sciences. The objectives of this course give the students confidence in manipulating and drawing conclusions from the data and provide them with critical framework for evaluating study designs and results.

Course Code: Phil1335 / Phil35-Business Ethics

This course is an examination of the principles of ethics and issues that guide behavior in the world of business. The topics covered are corporate responsibility, employee rights, and the nature of the free enterprise system, environmental concern, and ethical business practices.

Course Code: Acc1131/Acc131-Accounting II

This course is a continuation of Accounting 130 and deals with basic accounting aspects relating to Sole Proprietorships, Partnerships and Corporate form of organizations. It also deals with the Inventory Systems, and various methods involved in the valuation of inventory.

Course Code: Bus3209/Bus209-Fundamentals of Management

This course provides an introduction to the management of organizations and is designed to familiarize the students with management principles, concepts, and practices. The work of the manager is studied in terms of roles, required knowledge and skills. Topics covered include managing in a global environment, planning, organizing, leading, and controlling. Particular attention is given to the importance of decision making since it is the key function of the management of any sort of organization.

Course Code: Econ 1175 / Eco 75-Economic Development in the Gulf States

Principles and concepts of economic growth and development; theories of economic development, economic development since 1990s, factors of growth and development in the Gulf countries, employment, health, education, training, entrepreneurship and its role in the development of the region; natural resources and its role in Gulf region.

Course Code: Acc 2220 / Acc 220-Accounting by Computer

The course covers the need and use of computer in accounting; rationale behind the computerization accounting. Process of computer accounting, chart of accounts, coding, processing and various documents and reports which can be generated with the help of computer, inputs, outputs, and security data.

Course Code: Bus 3220 / Bus320/ Acc 230-Management Accounting Systems

Management accounting has been designed to enable the student to acquire management accounting techniques. This course deals with the theory and practice of Management accounting. Topics include financial reporting and analysis. Evaluating liquidity, Merchandising operations, standard costing, cost behavior analysis, Budgeting, Performance management and evaluation.

Course Code: Acc 4307 / Acc 307-Intermediate Accounting

The course concentrates and emphasizes on a deeper understanding of Management and Control of Cash and Cash flows, aspects relating to Receivables and Notes Receivables, Acquisition and Disposal of Properties, Treatment of Depreciation / Depletion / Impairments and Accounting for Intangible Assets and their impairments and amortization.

Course Code: SPMS3250 / SPMS50-Interpersonal Communication

This course is designed to foster an understanding and appreciation of effective interpersonal skills. It focuses on the basic theories and models of communication and investigate the variables involved in the communication process that include Verbal and nonverbal messages, self-awareness, group process, conflict resolution, team building etc.

Course Code: IST 50 / IST 1750-Introduction to Management Information Systems

This course familiarizes the students with the fundamental concepts and principles of management information systems. Topics covered include the strategic role of IT, decision support systems, database and data warehouse, enterprise applications, mobile applications, and social and ethical issues related to information systems.

Course Code: Acc4120 / Acc312-Cost Accounting

In this course students will be introduced to Costing for the first time. Cost Accounting is accounting done to ascertain cost information and help management to make decisions within a business. It is internal accounting, which is done voluntarily by a business entity. The course covers introduction, need for cost accounting, objectives and applications of cost accounting. Students will be introduced to the different categories of cost, and their analysis for decision-making and future planning.

Course Code: Bus 4252 / Bus 252-Financial Management 1

Financial Management is concerned with planning and controlling of financial aspects of a business concern. This course focuses on financial decision-making techniques with an eye on creation of wealth. The main chapters include Time value of Money, Valuation and characteristics of Bonds and Stocks. Capital Budgeting and risk analysis, Working Capital Management etc.

Course Code: Stat 111 / Stat 116-Statistics for Business II

This course introduces students to concepts of Statistics. A course on Statistical methodology for social and behavioral sciences. The objectives of this course give the students confidence in manipulating and drawing conclusions from the data and provide them with critical framework for evaluating study designs and results.

Course Code: ECO 122 / ECO 1200-Principles of Macro Economics

This course covers the major concepts and subject matter of macroeconomics. This course guides the students to study about the macro-economic issues like unemployment, inflation, and the policies of monetary and fiscal economics.

Course Code: Math 1212 / Math 12-Calculus for Accounting & Business

Calculus for Bus. & Mgt. Sys, Econ & Finance, or Info. Sci. & Tech; also, possibly Bio. Sci, Soc. Sci., or Humanities. Derivatives, optimization, exponential and logarithmic functions, integration, multivariate functions, partial derivatives, Lagrange multipliers, applications.

Course Code: Eng 1600 / Eng 65-Technical Writing

This course deals with writing that occurs in the workplace and allows the reader to take an action. It will equip students with the necessary range of skills to write in a range of technical documents. Students will analyze and produce texts appropriate to the communication of scientific, technological, and business data.

Course Code: Acc4308/Acc308-Intermediate Accounting-II

This course is a continuation of ACC 307. It deals with advanced accounting aspects in liabilities, owner's equity, income taxes, pension accounting etc., Topics include current liabilities, preferred stock dividends, pretax financial income and Taxable income, pension, and post-retirement health care benefits etc.,

Course Code: ECO 211/ ECO 2300-Introduction to Economic Statistics

This course covers the econometric and statistical methods used in economics and statistics; econometric techniques for the analysis of economic data; estimation of demand and cost functions using linear and non-linear equations, hypothesis testing and forecasting.

Course Code: ACC 240/ ACC 3240-Business Law for Accounting

Topics include introduction to the legal system, constitutional and criminal law governmental regulation of business: antitrust, employment and environment law, contracts, sales, real and personal property and international law.

Course Code: Phil 2120/ Phil 212-Ethics for the Computer Usage

The course familiarizes the students with the fundamental concepts and principles of Computer Ethics. Topic covered includes the Philosophical Ethics, Professional Ethics, Property Rights of Computer Software, Accountability and Computer and Information Technology, Social implication, and Social Values.

Course Code: Hist 1100/ Hist111-Western Civilization

A study of selected leading figures of Western Civilization in the fields of science, medicine, art, music, literature, politics, and technology.

Course Code: Econ 2100 or 2200/Eco221/222-Intermediate Micro / Macro Economics

This course covers the key theoretical issues in micro economic decision making. This course broadly deals with the key problems in the allocation of resources, the forces of demand and supply, Markets in action, Theories of consumer behavior, Production, Cost and Market structure Emphasis on efficiency attainment. This course covers the key issues in Macroeconomics such as the measurement of key macro-economic variables; the phenomenon of business cycles; Unemployment- The effectiveness of Stabilization policies; the determination of equilibrium income, savings, investment; multiplier accelerator analysis; consumption –investment theories; the concepts of money supply and money demand; Inflation and Interest rates.

Course Code: MNGT4325 Mngt325-Entrepreneurship

This course is interdisciplinary, it is designed to help students unfold and develop their personal attributes required to become a successful entrepreneur through case studies, and creative problem solving. Students will identify, discuss, and grow an idea about a business they might start.

Course Code: SOC 1100 / SOC 100- Omani Society:

This course is intended to provide the students with an understanding of the Omani Society and provide an overview of the different sectors of Oman, its geography and history, institutions and policies, access to law, values of society and culture.

Course Code: Acc4350/Acc350-Introduction to Taxation

Introduction to the theory and practice of taxation as applied to individuals and businesses, current laws, rules and regulations, basic definitional tax concepts of income, deductions, credit, gain or losses, tax research methodology and tax planning issues.

Course Code: Acc 352/ Acc 5342-Theory and Practice of Auditing

Introduction to the objectives, theory and practices of financial auditing, application of generally accepted auditing standards, the importance of well-written and comprehensive audit reports and other auditing services such as compilation, review, and other attestation functions.

Course Code: Fin2150/Fin250-Corporate Finance

This course focuses on the need for funds in business and the techniques of analysis used to determine how effectively these funds are invested with in the firms. It also explains the Different types of institutions, instruments for raising funds and the capital markets.

Course Code: Acc 4351/ Acc351-Government Accounting & Budgeting

Every accounting issue that affects govt. has its counterpart in the business sector. But the distinction between accounting for Goats. And for business are so marked that the two disciplines warrant separate statements of concepts and separate accounting principles and practices. The chief focus of the course includes. Introduction to accounting for state and local governments and for not-for-profits entities, including healthcare providers, colleges and universities, voluntary health, and welfare organizations. Principles of fund accounting, budgeting, budget control, auditing and analysis and interpretation of financial statements.

